

Rural Manager – Production

QUICK START TO YOUR RURAL MANAGER - PRODUCTION CERTIFICATION

They were formerly called Production Managers, Process Managers, etc. But they are now called Factory Managers. We prefer the latter as it carries more trait of quantitative and qualitative skills to value addition to community resources.

Gaining this certification demonstrates your determination to achieve a certain level of professional competence in grass root management. It also validates that you have the expertise to support an organization in implementing, maintaining, and managing an ongoing value chain system. The training course contains examples based on real-life scenarios, as such you will gain hands-on experience and design a community product development plan, enabling you to possess sufficient proficiency in managing affairs.

WHAT YOU GAIN FROM THE RURAL MANAGER - PRODUCTION CERTIFICATION

There are many career paths you can take as a rural production professional, and this certification will serve as an accurate portrayal of what you can do. These includes production planning, factory organising, etc. The knowledge and skills mastered during this training course will ensure that the organization you work for has an effective system in place for factory operation and goods processing.
